LIVER OIL IN EXTRACT OF MALT.
The Kepler Solution contains only two foods, Oil and Extract of Malt (Kepler), the former being dissolved in the latter. It is the pleasantest and most efficient preparation of Cod Liver Oil ever put into the market. The British Medical Journal pronounces this "An ideal form for the administration of fat." Patients grow fat upon it when other forms of oil cause distress and pain. To be had of all Chemists.

The influence of the electric arc on vegetation is said to have been strikingly shown in Berlin in the spring of this year. On some large time trees, the branches under the electric light displayed a most extraordinary growth, while the buds on opposite branches, where the light does not strike, were only just beginning to develop.

An attempt to get some idea of the area over which a flash of lightning is visible is to be made according to an announcement to the Berlin Meteorological Society, by means of simultaneous photographs taken at widely separated stations.

The world's largest gold mine—for which $16,000,000 has been refused—is stated to be in Alaska. It is lighted by electricity, and is worked day and night.

OLLA PODRIDA.

A cork rope is one of the latest inventions. It is made of small corks placed end to end, and the whole covered with a braiding of cotton twine; over this is a coarser braiding in heavy strands. According to the inventor, a 1-in. thick rope will stand a strain of 1,000 lb.

Queen Isabella is a very witty woman she likes. She was once at a gathering where no fewer than four Kings of Spain were assembled. There were her son, her husband, Don Carlos, and the King of Amador, Duke of Savoy. "There are enough of us," said the Queen, "to make a salad."

A crown has just been completed at Milan by order of the Negus. It is of massive gold, weighing about 3 lb. and set with 130 precious stones are set at intervals. The Negus has already paid the cost of the crown, 20,000 lire ($20,000), in advance.

A Times Calcutta telegram says: "The Nawab Anandul Khan Bahadur, a wealthy Mohammedan landlord in the district of Dacca, has spent a donation of 1,000 rupees to the fund for the survivors of the Bahawalpur. He writes that he has always had great admiration for the little band of heroes who covered the British and English with glory, and cannot forget that they fought in the cause of Islam, and that it was mainly due to the support of the English and French armies that the Sultan obtained a signal victory over the British."

According to the Chicago Herald, the German doctor, Altmann, notorious for his advocacy of vegetarian diet, has become a parrot, and has been seen in a cage of his kind, and is now a parrot. He was seen in a cage of his kind, and is now a parrot. He was seen in a cage of his kind, and is now a parrot.

The railway up the Jungfrau will be the steepest in Switzerland, and the engineers have numerous plans for making it so. There will be four tunnels, the longest, and the one nearest the top, will be 1,000 feet long, and the one nearest the bottom, will be 1,000 feet long.

When Louis XI. was staying at a castle near Tours, he went into the kitchen one evening, and found a little boy turning the spit. He was a nice-looking child, and the King, liking his face, stopped to speak to him. The boy, who was from a poor village, and how did you come here? The youngster did not know it was the King, and thought he was only one of the many people who came into the kitchen to do the cooking.

When was it that the fashion arose among lovers and friends of presenting each other with rings engraved with the words "I shall be in love with you for ever and ever"? The first of these rings was made by a Jew, and was given to a girl by a boy, and was given to a girl by a boy, and was given to a girl by a boy.

Our St. Petersburg correspondent (says the Daily News) makes an acquaintance with the latest "fashion" of the day, and is a private in the Russian Legion in which in Bulgaria found a little Turk—about four years old, who had been abandoned by his mother, and who was found by a soldier took the little one to his officers, who read to adopt it. The child, who was suffering from want of food, soon recovered, and told his name was "Ali," and was a very good boy.

The French Government (says the Admiral) has sold the entire stock of fuel which for several years has been stored in the coal depots of Pondicherry. The quantity was about 1,000 tons, and was bought, it is understood, by Messrs. Perry and Co., for their sugar factory at Nellore, at a very cheap rate. A loss of a few days, when a State dinner, during which the oldest non-commissioned officer of the regiment, in name of all the privates, presented a holy image, and the evening there was a ball.
